Teacher Tips

1 Prepare Materials

- scissors
- glue
- markers, crayons, or colored pencils
- copies of lapbook pages
- file folder, construction paper, or notebook (fold one side to the middle, then fold the other side to the middle)

2 Create Lapbook

- Break the activities up into different days or sessions. I like to do one activity (flap) a day.
- Students will cut & glue each flap to the folder and complete the activity.
- Complete various activities throughout the week to place into folder.
- Decorate the front.
- Bring home to share with families.

What Teachers are Saying...

"My students loved using the flap book! They described it as "beautiful!" They really loved doing the different activities and they were really into the weather and forecasting! I am so pleased they were using weather language even after the lesson was over!"

"My students love learning about weather using this resource. Not only was this an extremely engaging way to learn, but the kids has SO much FUN! They could not wait to add more to their weather notebook, and have talked about the different kinds of weather everyday since we made this. Awesome resource!"

"With the options that are available in this resource you can really create an activity designed for the students and scaffold for different abilities. The students loved being able to make this project."

Easy to Make and Assemble

Simply print the templates and let your students complete and create!

These templates go just beyond a worksheet. They become interactive!

I can draw the weather this week

Cut out the long rectangle on the left on just the solid lines. Cut out each individual daily box. Glue the pictures in order to show the days of the week onto the long rectangle strip. Accordion fold the strip on the dotted lines. Place glue just on the "glue here" strip to glue to lapbook. Draw the weather for each day of the week.
